Workshop Title: (limit to 4 words) My Bad: How Extraordinary Educators Learn From Mistakes podcast exploration

Instructor(s) Lindsey Brewer & Lori Keleher

Workshop Description (Proofread carefully. For courses offered to the general public, this will appear on the USF Web Site):

There's a lot you can learn from the My Bad podcast's guests who are educational leaders and sometimes screw-ups. In this podcast exploration, you'll listen to actual teachers and principals tell stories about mistakes they've made and how and what they've learned from these incidences. Admitting mistakes and personal reflections and then applications of lessons learned; each episode is a case study an individual who screwed up and how he or she was able to grow personally and professionally through the mistake. The podcast is produced by BAM Radio Network and is hosted by Jon Harper. Mr. Harper is currently the principal at Sandy Hill Elementary in Cambridge, Maryland. Prior to becoming an administrator, he was a National Board Certified Teacher in first, second, fourth and fifth grades.

Workshop Objectives:

Participants will...

...try out three methods designed to improve concentration and evaluate comprehension when listening to podcasts; including, SketchNotes, MindMaps, and One-Pagers.

...consider topics that impact student relationships; including judging, labeling, & underestimating students, handling defiant students, and ways to empower students through changes in pedagogy

...consider topics that impact teacher issues; including grading students, evaluating teachers, teacher burnout, and ways to grow professionally through changes in mindset

...consider topics that impact school communities; including parent involvement and building a supportive team among teachers & their administrators

...define specific goals and action plans to implement changes that positively impact student learning, teaching practices and school communities.

Evaluation Criteria: (Include brief description of required assignments and evaluation methodology.)

To earn credit for this course, participants will...

*post 3 documents summarizing the selected podcast episodes (1 document for each course focus) on the corresponding class Padlet page ~ 60% of final grade

*complete the final exam using Google Forms ~ 40% of the final grade
